

Human Rights

On the day of International Human Rights (December 10th), class 1 C organized (with the help of their English teacher) an activity dedicated to working and learning about the most important universal human rights.

During the week the rights were read aloud in English and translated into Spanish. The students prepared a mural with drawings related to their own rights. Later all the sheets were placed on the bilingual notice board, so that all the pupils in the center could see them.

The class also visited the auditorium to see the poster exhibition of our teacher colleague, Antonio Morcillo, who collaborates with Amnesty International.
